It may be noted here that, while the Govt of India rules a copy of which forms enclosure to the letter under disposal, provide for the grants of advances to Govt Servants, whose pay exceeds Rs 100 but does not exceed Rs 500 a month and who may have a difficulty in finding at once the means to enable them to proceed to the Institute, the rules framed by the Bombay make no provision for grant of advances in such cases.

The rules framed by the Bombay relate only to persons proceeding to the Pasteur Institute at Kasauli for treatment (and require production of certificates from Medical Officers) and similar rules have not been framed in the case of

FROM

H. H. RISLEY, Esq., C.S.I., C.I.E.,

Secretary to the Government of India,

To

Home Department.
Medical.

Calcutta, the 19th December 1906.

SIR,

WITH reference to the correspondence ending with your letter no. and in modification of the orders contained in the Home Department letter no. , dated the 18th December 1902, I am directed to communicate the following remarks and orders of the Government of India regarding the grant to Government servants and to indigent persons unconnected with the public service of certain concessions designed to enable them, when bitten by a rabid animal, to proceed without delay to the Pasteur Institute at Kasauli or Coonoor for treatment.

2. In the case of Government servants the Government of India consider that a distinction must be made between those who are too poor to proceed at their own expense to a Pasteur Institute for treatment and those who can afford eventually to pay for their journey but have a difficulty in finding the requisite means at once. The former are, in their opinion, fit subjects for State beneficence: the needs of the latter can most suitably be met by the grant of advances. The question of giving similar assistance to private individuals stands on a different footing and it may be argued that the provision of facilities to enable them to obtain treatment should be left to private charity. The Government of India however recognise that they occupy a very special position towards the subject of medical relief and that the circumstances of this particular case call for special consideration, since the sufferer's recovery depends on his being able to start for a Pasteur Institute at once, a condition which private charity cannot be counted on to secure. The Government of India have therefore decided to lay down the following rules for the guidance of local Governments and Administrations:—

I.—Any Government servant who has been bitten by a rabid animal, and who is too poor to proceed to Kasauli or Coonoor at his own expense may, provided that he is drawing not more than Rs100 a month, be granted—

(i) his actual travelling expenses to Kasauli or Coonoor and back, namely, (a) a single fare each way by railway of the class by which he is entitled to travel on duty, (b) for journeys by road, the actual cost of transit, not exceeding the amount admissible under rule. The expenses for the return journey should be paid to the patient at Kasauli or Coonoor, after the treatment has been undergone, by the Treasury Officer at those stations, on production of a discharge certificate from the Director of the Institute;

(ii) an advance of one month's pay;

(iii) one month's casual leave, any leave required in excess being treated as privilege or sick leave.

II.—Any Government servant who has a difficulty in finding at once the means to enable him to proceed to an Institute, and whose pay exceeds R100 but does not exceed R500 a month, may be granted an advance not exceeding the amount admissible under rule I (i), and may also be given the concessions specified in I (ii) and (iii) above. The sums thus advanced will be recovered by instalments on the usual scale.

III.—Subject to such further rules as local Governments may make, any indigent person unconnected with the public service who, in the opinion of any officer authorized to grant the concession, is unable to proceed to a Pasteur Institute at his own expense, may be granted his actual travelling expenses to Kasauli or Coonoor and back, namely, (a) a single third class fare each way by railway, (b) for journeys by road, the actual cost of transit, (c) maintenance allowance at the following daily rates: Europeans and Eurasians R1 during the journey and R2-8 during treatment, natives 4 annas during the journey and 6 annas during treatment. The expenses for the return journey should be paid to the patient at Kasauli or Coonoor after the treatment has been undergone, by the Treasury Officer at those stations on production of a discharge certificate from the Director of the Institute.

3. The existing rules requiring the production of a certificate from a medical officer and the sanction of the principal district officer in the department concerned before a Government servant can obtain a concession enabling him to proceed to an institute have been found to cause dangerous delays in the arrival of patients in Kasauli. The Government of India have therefore decided that any Government servant not below such rank as may be fixed by the local Government shall be empowered to grant the above mentioned concessions, and to authorize the immediate departure for Kasauli or Coonoor of any of the classes of persons specified, whether Government servants or indigent persons unconnected with the public service.

4. On the production of a certificate from the Director of the Pasteur Institute that the person sent has been treated, the local Government will adjust the expenditure as provincial, local or municipal according to the local conditions and rules. In provinces where the provincial settlement system is not in force, the expenditure, so far as it is not met from local or municipal funds, will be borne by imperial revenues.

5. Orders regarding the application of the foregoing rules to cantonments will issue separately.

I have the honour to be,

SIR,

Your most obedient servant,

H. H. RISLEY,

Secretary to the Government of India.
